Name of Course- Fostering Gender Justice: Binaries and Beyond

Name of Instructor: Ms. Swati Sharda

Session: June-July 2024

Language of instruction: English

Number of contact hours: 36

Credit awarded: 03

Pre-requisite: NA

Objective of Course/Project

This course's primary goal is to teach the basic arguments around the intersections of gender and the law through the prism of Sustainable Development Goals. In the context of marginalized categories, it addresses the fundamental ideas surrounding the production of identities, social spaces, gender, and diverse sexualities. This course's main focus is on how society and the law interact in a patriarchal, heteronormative social structure. It investigates how laws are made and how they are incorporated into societal-legal structures. It challenges the queer articulations of law to honor and acknowledge them.

Syllabus:

Module I –Gender Theories and Historical Perspectives.

Module II – Gender and Sex

Module III – Intersection of Gender and Law

Module IV – Social and Health Issues: Binaries and Beyond
