A workshop on European Literature and Literary Theories (online mode) was organized by Manipal Centre for European Studies, MAHE, Manipal in collaboration with the Department of Languages, Manipal University Jaipur on 12th and 13th April 2022. The workshop was a part of the Jean Monnet Centre of Excellence project. Dr. Neha Singh, Manipal University Jaipur briefly introduced the idea behind organizing this workshop wherein she discussed that it is an attempt to familiarize students of literature with theoretical tools to appreciate literary texts. Using the 'text-to-theory' approach, the workshop will enable participants to understand a wide range of literary theories. The workshop was offered in four sessions and its details are given below.

Day 1: 12 April 2022

SESSION 1: THE CLASSICAL THEORY OF LITERATURE:

This session focused on the origins of classical drama, and its various features and characteristics. The session examined the relevance of classical theories of literature expounded by Plato and Aristotle in understanding a literary text. It aims to provide a detailed understanding of the notion of tragedy, the concept of a tragic hero, and the function of tragedy, and Dr. Praveen Shetty was the resource person.

SESSION 2: ROMANTIC THEORY OF POETRY

The session focused on the notions of poetry in European Romantic poetry. Examining the social and political conditions in Europe that led to the rise of the literary (and artistic) movement of Romanticism, it analyses the notion of poetic creation and features of romantic poetry in Europe. Select poems from English writers of the Romantic Age were used to illustrate the relation between the theories of poetry and their application in understanding the texts. For this session, Ms. Richa Gupta was the resource person.

SESSION 3: MODERNISM AND POSTMODERNISM

This session outlined how literary works transformed from the mid-19th century to the early 20th century. It reflected the rapidly evolving social conditions that resulted in a significant change in literary aesthetic practices. Further, it introduced the participants to the features of modernist literature and Dr. Aravinda Bhat was the resource person.

SESSION 4: STRUCTURALISM AND POSTSTRUCTURALISM

A session on structuralism and post-structuralism was taken up by Mr. Prathapchandra T wherein he introduced the participants to the features of structuralism and post-structuralism. It acquainted the participants with the application of structuralist and post-structuralist ideas in the interpretation of literary works. Selected literary texts were used in the session to demonstrate the readings using modern literary theories. Each session was followed by Q&A where participants put forth their queries.
