

FAQs-Integrated Program in Management (IPM)

1. How IPM is different than any other currently running programs?

IPM program is a unique & distinctive offering, with a primary objective to prepare future managers & leaders with a holistic approach, including appreciation & collaboration of Social Sciences, Basic Economics, etc. in management education.

- Provides broad, comprehensive, globalized curriculum, advanced pedagogy, and learning. Creates broader understanding of Managing businesses and industries than other programs.
- The IPM program is precisely aimed to enable better managerial decision-making in the most challenging conditions.
- It helps managers to augment their intuitive decision making in VUCA (volatile, complex, ambiguous & uncertain) business world.
- Only program that provides vast in-depth multidisciplinary knowledge to the student, thus, building a solid foundation of management.
- Student could join right after graduating 12th standard.
- No requirement of any bachelor's degree.
- Master of Business Administration Degree awarded upon completion.

2. What are the current and future needs of industry and how IPM fills the gap?

- Industry demands an effective manager, who should visualize the change in the context in which he/she is operating and bring about the change. IPM prepares participants to appreciate and play this role.
- Industry needs an appropriately trained workforce who would explore effective management in sectors like in social, voluntary, non-commercial sectors, just other than business.

To train such managers who can bring about change, the design and delivery of a holistic management curriculum is a pre-requisite. The Integrated Programme in Management (IPM) is precisely aimed at such an opportunity.

- IPM provides a holistic curriculum needed by the industry, with a motivation to prepare managers who can conceive and supervise change. IPM would provide an opportunity for the participants to realize their leadership potential.
